On The Grounds

COCOPLUM (CHRYSOBALANUS ICACO)

Cocoplum, a South Florida native, is an outstanding evergreen plant with a "beachy" look, producing an edible plum which many creatures enjoy. Terrific as a hedge or privacy plants, these multi-stemmed, woody shrubs can grow to about 15 feet - though most of the time they're kept trimmed to around 4 feet. The cocoplum takes some effort to get established, but once it is growing well it is an easy-care plant that is salt-tolerant and needs little irrigation. This dense evergreen with shiny, leathery leaves can be kept more manicured for a formal look or left to grow in its naturally pretty rounded shape in a casual landscape style.

Palmer Ranch Master Association is very grateful to all the Butterfly / Wildlife supporters who came forth and expressed your desire to have a Butterfly/Wildlife garden on Palmer Ranch. On October 23rd, the Board of County Commissioners approved the Neighborhood Initiative Grant Program (NIGP) Applications for Grant Cycle 31, which included our request.

My current plan is to start planting sometime in January, when the temperatures are cooler and we can get more work done without withering in the hot sun.

The purpose of this note is to again say THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU and to please ask that you consider signing up for one of the tasks as shown on the attached. As time gets closer, I'll be in contact with the people who's email addresses I have, to find out exactly what task you'd like to help us with. You can also email me directly at sue@palmerranch.net. Please include your name, contact information, the task you're interested in doing and the time of day you'd prefer to do it. In the meantime, have a very Happy Holiday Season.

With Gratitude,

Sue Ambrecht
